

Yes, there is way too much violence and nudity on TV. Let's work on getting this minimized for the sake of our children. As a parent I audit their programming but when improper things are "placed" in a show unexpectantly there is little recourse at that point. I guess we can boycott TV as the next step. Advertisers wouldn't be too happy about that!